A well-known old-timer of the Entwistle and Gainford districts, Oscar Nelson, 86, died at the Norwood Auxiliary Hospital in Edmonton.

Mr. Nelson came to Canada from his native Sweden in the twenties. After filing on a homestead in the Entwistle district, he later moved to a farm in the Gainford area where he remained for 18 years.

A well-respected bachelor, Mr. Nelson had no relatives in this country but many friends in the districts where he lived.

Funeral service was held Saturday, December 9th from the Entwistle Community Hall with Rev. Robert Cayne officiating. Burial took place at the Evansburg Cemetery.

Norway, Sweden and Denmark have a population about equal to Canada's. Their climate is similar. Yet they have only half as many fires. Canadians too can prevent fires with proper care.

Chamber Still Needs President

A regular meeting of the Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce was held Thursday evening in the Jade Cafe with the election of officers for 1968 taking place.

The nominating committee of Alex Zubot, Howard Pickup and Wendy Sekura filled all offices with the exception of president and vice-president. The hope was expressed that the two vacancies could be filled from the executive before the January meeting when new officers are installed.

Officers elected are Bob Cowan, secretary and Frank Neil, treasurer. Elected to the board of directors were Wally Peters, Don McKenzie, Wendy Sekura, Mary Kublik, Harvey Nelson, Dave Trosher, Wes Ratzlaff, Ron Smith, Mick LaTosky, John Moody, Roy Burrows, Ken Retallack and Bob Mayhew.

It was decided to hold the Christmas decorating contest again this year with prizes of $15, $10 and $5 for the three winners. Clergymen of the community have agreed to judge again this year and will do the judging on the evening of Friday, December 22nd.

Bob Mayhew, reporting for the Highways Committee, stated that information had been received from the Provincial Highways Department indicating improvements are planned on the existing road connecting Evansburg and Mayerthorpe. A high standard secondary road is proposed but will wait Legislative approval with more information available after the spring session.

The information came from V. E. McCune, Chief Engineer of the Highways Department, in response to a letter from Mr. Mayhew pointing out the problems for truckers and tourists in using the shortcut between Highways 43 and 16.

Mr. Howard Pickup introduced a proposal by I. D. 77 representatives, that the district road between Drayton Valley and Lodgepole be raised from district status and become the continuation of Highway 57. The proposal suggests also the extension of Highway 39 from Alsike to Drayton Valley.

A committee of Mr. Pickup and Mr. Mayhew will contact I. D. 77 representatives with a view to approaching the Minister of Highways with the suggestion.

Mr. Pepper of the Department of Education has indicated an interest in conducting further adult education classes in Drayton Valley this winter. Chamber membership expressed interest in continuing the classes and the matter tabled to the January meeting.

It was decided to cancel the December executive meeting which would fall on December 21st. The next general meeting will be held Thursday, January 4th.

Baptist Church To Present Film

Calvary Baptist Church welcomes you to see the inter-denominational, sound-color film "The Worst Disaster", December 17th at 11:00 a.m. Free admission.

A few weeks ago the government of India began a nationalistic push by thrusting out from her country many missionaries. The church of India is therefore, suddenly, left to herself without trained leaders. Many cases are lack of trained leaders for medical fed dispensaries and hospitals.

There are also missionaries, forced to leave the work for which they have trained and in which they have labored for years, the only thing they are fitted to do. Surely these are disasters. But there is more to it than that. Learn the whole story as told through "The Worst Disaster."

Warriors Open Season With 46-38 Victory

The FMHS Warrior Basketball team opened their Pembina League schedule with a 46-38 victory over the Thorsby Hornets. Though only the first game of the league the Warriors considered the game a key win in their search for league honors which they won last year by nosing out this same Thorsby team.

The game was excitement packed as the lead continually switched back and forth throughout the contest. The score stood 26-26 at the half and 34-33 in favor of the Warriors at three quarter time, and then Thorsby moved ahead 36-34 in the last quarter but at this point the local team took command of the game outscoring their opposition 12 to 2 in the last five minutes.

The Drayton Valley win was a determined team effort which was lead by center Doug Ibbotson with 17 points, Larry Metelski with 10, Don Bouschard with 9 and Ken Bureyko hitting for 5. Of special note was the excellent work of Ron Cameron at the right guard position. This is Ron's rookie season with the local club and he is rapidly gaining a noteworthy recognition as one to be respected by the opposition. In an earlier season team victory over Seba Beach, Ron was its outstanding performer on the court.

This was the Warrior's fourth straight victory of the season and they will be looking for number five as they travel to Winfield Friday, December 15 to play a team they have great respect for and one that they do not consider lightly.

This year's league has the makeup of the most exciting of its history as all teams are capable of upsetting any of the others on a given night and with no playoffs but league honors going to the first place finishers, every game of the schedule becomes in itself a playoff game.

Wednesday night the Thorsby team travels to Warburg for another big game of that schedule and Winfield will be in Breton.

ACROSS THE EDITOR'S DESK

Unfair Criticism Hurts Alberta . . .

We don't buy a lot of the nonsense we've heard in the last few weeks on the subject of American hunters. They have been the subject of considerable criticism both over the air and in various letters to the editor.

First, we'd like to point out that these people were invited to Alberta and should have received the respect you would normally accord a visitor. Alberta needs all the visitors it can get from south of the border to expand our booming tourist industry and insulting customers isn't the best way to build business.

Despite what may have been said about the Americans arriving here with little need of making any purchases, they did leave a lot of money behind that helped the economy of many small Alberta Communities.

The Americans aren't "woods-wise" we've heard. What about the "woodsy" Albertans who manage to lose themselves every year? The fact that the U.S. hunters travelled hundreds of miles for the opportunity of bagging a moose indicates they are sportsmen and probably on a par with their Alberta counterparts in whatever their walks in life.

A couple of the U.S. hunters managed to get into some bad trouble earlier this fall. This is new? Albertans have been blasting one another off the face of the map for years.. to say nothing of bagging an occasional cow or horse.

There must have been an over-population of moose in the special area or it's not likely the government would have made its offer in the U.S.A. Most of the local hunters we've spoken to didn't seem to have too much trouble getting a moose if they wanted one. So why all the uproar?

Perhaps those making the noise should take a long look at the big picture. Wild game must be harvested to keep the crop healthy, so what's wrong with inviting some others in to bolster our economy while harvesting (not depleting) this resource that belongs to all Albertans -- not just the hunters.

Word of Warning About High Taxes . . .

A writer in Chicago Tribune recently stated that the average American must work one-third of his eight hour day to earn enough to pay his various taxes. He estimated that the working time necessary to pay taxes is increasing by six minutes each year so that in another fifteen years the average taxpayer will work half his working day to pay his taxes.

He further claimed that these estimates do not include hidden taxes such as the 250 which are in the cost of an automobile and the more than 100 which are included in the cost of a loaf of bread.

One of the reasons given by historians for the fall of the Roman Empire was the inordinate tax increases to support its military and welfare projects. Long ago, economists estimated that if taxes exceeded one-third of income there would be cause for concern. Canada, like the U.S., has reached and perhaps has already passed this point.

Holidays Increase Blood Need . . .

It is quite probable that over the festive season many of our citizens will visit a hospital.

If you are a hospital visitor you may see one or more patients receiving a blood transfusion. That transfusion is an important step in the restoration of health or may save a life.

Please remember that someone was thoughtful enough to take a little time before the holiday to make a blood donation. They realized that there is always a need for blood and the season is no exception.

When they made their blood donation they gave the gift of life for someone, yes, the greatest gift!

Now is the time to plan your very special gift. You'll be happier when you do give your blood and the holiday season will have a different meaning this year.

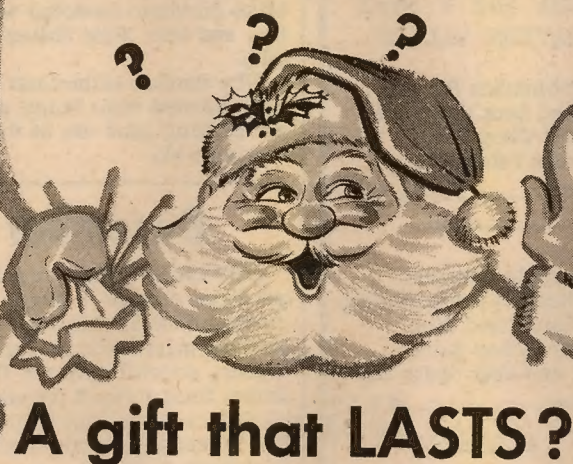

Those you help will always remember!

BY MRS. EDITH DEBY

Mrs. William Henkel will entertain with a bridal shower for Miss Shirley Ann Vadheim on Saturday, December 16th at 8 p.m. Miss Vadheim and her fiancé, Mr. Martin Urchysyn, have set December 30th as the date for their wedding. Mrs. Henkel hopes that as many friends as can will accept her invitation for Saturday evening next.

Mr. William Wollschlager had a few days in hospital recently but appears to be well again.

Mrs. Henry Dunington is in hospital with an attack of pleurisy. The Duningtons had planned to spend the holiday season with their daughter, Mrs. Verna Tritchler, in Vancouver, but Mrs. Dunington's illness may mean a change of plan.

Mrs. Belinda Alton, formerly of Drayton Valley, is spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Schielke, in Salmon Arm.

Mr. Peter Bureyko is one of the luckiest fisherman in town. Perhaps this has made him critical of any fish less than a spectacular one. Recently he decided a fish was not quite large enough to suit him so he had Mr. Hammerlindl help him throw it back in the lake.

Deaths by Fire Up During Year

With one full month left in 1967 fire deaths already exceed the number in 1966 by 7. Presently, 25 men, 14 children and 7 women have died from fire, said Austin E. Bridges, Alberta Fire Commissioner, last week.

Two recent fire deaths indicate areas of greatest concern; a death in the home from fire initiated by careless smoking while under the influence of alcohol; and a fire in the oil industry due to an accident involving a very volatile and flammable liquid.

Home fires involving careless smoking are usually smoldering fires confined to a room and very seldom does the person who caused the fire awake in time to call for help. Sometimes the fire department is alerted by another occupant of the building in sufficient time to put out the fire and revive the person who may already be unconscious from smoke suffocation; but too often deaths from smoke inhalation from smoldering cigarette fires will occur before the fire is discovered. Persons who live alone must be doubly cautious about smoking in bed or smoking where cigarettes may ignite upholstered furniture.

Workmen in the oil industry are often in high hazard locations. A recent death by fire in an oil refinery occurred where aviation gasoline was being processed. The process brought the operator in close contact with gasoline vapors. For some undetermined reason there was a surge of the gasoline fuel causing the workman's clothing to be sprayed with the gasoline. The exact cause of the spillage of gasoline and the exact cause of ignition of the gasoline has not yet been determined. However, new safe practices will be instituted by the refinery to guard against further accidents of this nature.

At home or in industry eternal vigilance is necessary to avoid fatal fire accidents.

STUFFING FOR THE BIRD

Sometimes poultry dressing is soggy and unappetizing.

It may be because the bird was not adequately thawed and the cavity dried; or it may be because too much moisture was added to the crumbs.

It's suggested that the best stuffing is made from 2-3 day old bread (4 or 5 day old baker's bread). The bread should crumble easily without going into doughy balls and without being cracker-crumby dry. You can easily crumble a whole loaf by removing crusts and placing the bread in a clean tea towel. Then rub it between the fingers. Bread can also be grated on a grater or crumbled in a blender.

If you wish to shorten the cooking time of the bird by 5 minutes per pound, place the stuffing in a covered casserole or tin foil and bake 30 - 40 minutes.

TURKEY GARNISH

The golden brown of a well cooked turkey is good enough for most of us but perhaps you want something special for your holiday bird.

A suggestion from the Poultry Products Institute is for Christmas Wreaths.

Meringue is made using the proportion of 2 egg whites and 6 tablespoons of cranberry jelly beaten until stiff. The egg whites should be whipped till frothy before adding the jelly.

Pile the meringue on slices of canned pineapple. To give the appearance of a wreath, decorate with bits of red and green glaze or maraschino cherries. Bake at 350°F. for 10 to 15 minutes or until silver knife comes out clean when inserted in the meringue.

Serve hot by placing around the turkey.

Farm Program Scheduled For TV During January

"Factors in Crop Production", the theme of the second day of "This Business of Farming", scheduled to be televised on all prairie CBC and affiliated stations from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. on Wednesday, January 3, will deal with crop rotations, the use of fertilizers, timeliness of operations and budgeting, all of which must be considered when changing over to a more intensified cropping system.

To reach the limit of a soil's productive capacity, careful attention must be paid to such matters as disease control, insects, weeds and soil fertility. A crop rotation is one of the main ways of controlling these factors. Although rotations may be very simple in the drier areas of the prairies, the crop combinations that can be used in the more moist parts often become quite complex. They may include wheat, coarse grains, fallow and back to wheat; or they may include forages and even specialty crops. In areas where moisture permits, it may be possible to eliminate fallow completely.

Wednesday's program will feature Orlan Bratvold, head of the Alberta Plant Industry Division's Field Crops Branch, talking to Ernie Kvarnberg about the type of crop rotations he uses on his pedigree seed farm near Calmar. Mr. Kvarnberg grows both cereal and forage seed and has been practising a flexible type of crop rotation for over 20 years. As a general rule, he likes to follow a five or six year rotation with about one-third of his land seeded for forage crops. He explains how he adjusts his rotation sequence to general growing conditions, the annual weed situation, and market trends.

Many soil specialists argue that the 25 million acres of summerfallow land on the prairies could be cut in half. This highly controversial subject will be debated from the point of view of moisture conservation and disease and insect control by Urban Pitman of the Canada Research Station at Lethbridge and Earl Johnson, soil specialist with the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture.

The important part that budgeting plays in determining the most profitable crop sequence and the factors that must be considered when working out such a budget will also be discussed on the program. These factors include estimated yields, prices, etc. as well as costs for fertilizers, chemical sprays, seed, labor, machinery operations and crop insurance.

The last section of the program entitled "Horizons" will feature a planting machine that will place the seed in the ground without a lot of seedbed preparation. Benefits of such a machine include less tillage, better moisture conservation, and good soil erosion control.

Thursday's program of "This Business of Farming" will outline the advantages of using good seed of suitable varieties for the various soil zones of the province and explain the importance of soil testing. Chemical and cultural weed control and the benefits of crop insurance will also be discussed on the program.

Friday's program will deal with the factors that must be taken into consideration when selecting farm machinery.

This four-day series entitled "This Business of Farming" is produced co-operatively by the three prairie provinces and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Livestock Feeding Pamphlet Available

Feeding Livestock on Low-Roughage Rations is designed for cattle and sheep producers whose roughage supplies are inadequate to meet normal feeding requirements.

Published by the Canada Department of Agriculture, the pamphlet outlines the amounts and relative values of grains that can be substituted for part of the roughage ration when such a substitution is more economical than shipping hay or straw. Local conditions and availability of feed determines which feeds are most economical, but the cost of different feeds in relation to their nutritive value must always be taken into consideration.

"Feeding Livestock on Low-Roughage Rations" can be obtained from District Agriculturists and the Publications Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Proudly introducing Another Alberta Junior Citizen of the Centennial Year!

JONI BREWSTER, Bowden

Joni Brewster was still in Grade One when she was struck with vaccination encephalitis. Instead of giving up, the courageous youngster relearned the normal skills she had lost — speaking, walking, writing. Today, 10-year-old Joni pushes her wheelchair at school, using it for support instead of sitting in it. Despite her handicap, her happy outlook on life sets a fine example to all those around her.

We congratulate Joni Brewster and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active participation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. Our special thanks to Hap Clarke, Editor of the Innisfail Province and to Joni's nominator, Mrs. Nick Finchuk of Bowden.

Proud of our Alberta Heritage

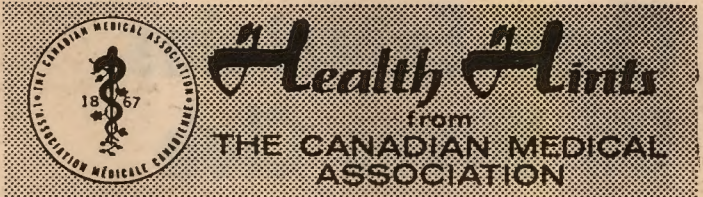

Among the variations of the Scotch Reel, traditional folk dance of Scotland, is the Reel of Tulloch--a routine which originated because of human misery. According to legend, the belated minister of a Tulloch country church usually found his waiting congregation cavorting to keep warm.

Their behaviour led to the development of the dance which made this village famous.

MEASLES

It has been taken for granted for years that every child sooner or later must have measles. In fact, almost all children in the past have at one time or another had measles. However, measles is a serious disease and can cause death and disability, according to the Canadian Medical Association. Some children develop severe pneumonia and have a difficult time recovering. Occasionally a child has a severe nervous system complication which leaves him crippled for life.

Newly developed vaccines for the prevention of measles have proven to be extremely effective. There are two types of vaccines: the killed measles vaccine and the live measles vaccine. At the present time medical opinion favors the live vaccine which has been treated so that the virus which normally causes measles has been weakened so it causes only a very mild disease--a little bit of fever, perhaps some headache, a little cough. The child gets the same protection he would have after having had the full blown disease.

There are two forms of live vaccine. One is combined with gamma globulin in order to minimize the symptoms that might develop. Another form of the vaccine is further weakened so that it does not require the giving of gamma globulin along with it.

The C. M. A. advises that measles vaccine should be given to children over the age of nine months. In this way measles can be prevented. It is interesting that the mild, modified measles induced by the vaccine is non-infectious and yet it produces the same life-long protection that the regular disease produces.

Some of those who attended the annual Senior Citizens Banquet Tuesday

Senior Citizens Feted at Supper

On Tuesday evening, December 5th, the Drayton Valley Elk's Hall, complete with Christmas decorations, was the setting for the Third Annual Senior Citizens' Supper sponsored by the ladies of the Drayton Valley Order of the Royal Purple. Honored Royal Lady Vera Hazzard welcomed the guests and the OORP ladies sang the grace.

Rosaire, Maurice and Omar Parenteau provided background music while 63 senior citizens from Drayton Valley and surrounding districts enjoyed a delicious turkey supper prepared and served by ladies of the OORP. Mr. and Mrs. Louth, having birthdays on December 5th and 6th respectively, were presented with a birthday cake. Following supper the guests took part in a few games of bingo.

In addition to the orchestra, other entertainers for the evening were Pat Jenkins, singing "Second Hand Rose"; Betty McGee singing, "O Holy Night"; Gail McEachern and Betty Donovan singing a selection of old time songs; ladies of the OORP with a preview of 1968 spring hat fashions and Mr. Fred Hunt of Round Valley reading some of the poetry he has written. All present joined in the singing of some favorite Christmas carols.

After a few rounds of old time waltzes, the French minuet, and the Heel, Toe Polka, the guests were served coffee and cake to end the evening. Mr. Louth said a few words of thanks to the lodge on behalf of the Senior Citizens.

All in attendance seemed to enjoy the evening very much and the ladies of the Royal Purple are looking forward to seeing everyone again next year.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Doug Caston, M.P.

"Well, now do you like being in politics?", or "How do you like it here on the Hill?" are the questions that I have been getting pretty regularly in the three weeks since officially taking over the Jasper-Edson seat in the House of Commons on November 21.

Perhaps you, the voters who sent me here, might be interested in hearing about my first impressions of Canada's Parliament.

Primarily, the welcome by members of all parties is genuinely friendly and helpful. While a new member doesn't have too much to do for the first few weeks, I see some of the fellows who have been here for several years dogging it through the halls to the various Committee meetings. The Committees do a great amount of detailed work of examining into the various matters referred to them, and finally reporting to the House their findings and recommendations, from which legislation often results.

As far as the debates in the House itself are concerned, they are both enlightening and boring. Within minutes, a rapid-fire exchange between members can degenerate into a sleep inducing flow of words that seem to have no other purpose than to get space in Hansard, the official record of the words spoken in the House.

It seems to me that members of the NDP persuasion are a little more addicted to this type of speech making without purpose than are the members of the Government or the Official Opposition. Under the leadership of Mr. Stanfield, we, (the Conservatives) are trying to facilitate the business that the Government of the Day is attempting to have passed. Last night, two Members of the N. D. P. spoke at great length on a Bill to survey about 36 miles of the Yukon--B.C. border that originally had been commenced in 1899. No Liberal or Conservative was worrying about it. The Bill made sense, so let's get on with something else of importance like the mini-budget or the reform of the divorce laws was our point of view.

Your new Member was aware that there would be frustrations, and I think the one most difficult to adjust to will be the ponderous process of Parliamentary debate, the necessity under our system to allow the expression of all and every point of view before anything gets done. The alternative, unfortunately is a dictatorship where a Parliament rubber stamps legislation without comment or criticism or attempt at amendment. My background in community newspapering I think should help me to adapt to the gold-fish bowl type of life a politician must live, since sometimes the only protection that the weekly newspaperman has are the game laws

Drayton was represented in the Bronze gloves at St. Albert on the weekend by nine local boxers. These boys all put on a fine show and four of them will go to Peace River next Kerry Brown, Ronald Bartek, Richard Townsend and Dale Johnson were winners and we hope they go on to win in the finals.

Richard Klippert, Bruce Combs, Donny Brown, Walter Mastre and John Tetter lost close decisions but all did their best and we will look for them being winners next time.

LODGEPOLE NEWS

MRS. C. KAY, Correspondent.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. Jack Schmidt and family in their bereavement for Mr. Schmidt's brother. Mr. Schmidt was a well-known Edmonton gardener, and perhaps no finer tribute could be paid than that given by the presiding minister when he spoke of the passing of a "friendly neighbor".

Things do go in threes. Just ask Mrs. Phil Petuk who was the lucky winner of three turkeys at the Bingo sponsored by Lodgepole Lions. Many thanks to all who attended and helped. Proceeds went to the skating rink. Mrs. Panke-wicz won the draw for the hamper.

Mr. Roy Tagervold is a patient in the Drayton Valley Hospital. We sincerely hope he will be well soon.

Mr. R. Thomas was a Lodgepole visitor recently.

No Paper Dec. 27

There will be no issue of The Western Review during the week of December 25 to 30th. Anyone with notices or other material that would normally go into the issue on the Wednesday of the week in question is asked to let us have it in time for the December 20th paper.

The Entwistle 4-H Clothing Club held its third meeting November 29th in the United Church basement.

This meeting was a sewing meeting with nineteen members present.

Demonstrations were given by Irma Sawatsky on "Sewing A Dart" also Debbie Nelson gave one on "How to Thread a Sewing Machine and Rewind a Bobbin".

Our next meeting is December 6th in the church basement.

Girls are reminded that garments have to be handed in by January 3, 1968.

The club met for its fourth meeting, December 6th.

A talk was given by Margaret Drews on "Preparing a Fabric for Sewing". Also Mrs. Marylene Nelson demonstrated on "How to Sew in a Zipper."

An election was held for a new reporter and Dawn Brown was elected.

The girls decided to go Christmas caroling on Sunday, December 17th at 6 o'clock. A Christmas Party Committee will meet with the Field and Beef Club committee to decide on a date for their Christmas party.

The leaders are proud of the girls with their decision of dividing the money that they would spend on Christmas gifts for each other between Santas Anonymous and the sewing machine fund.

Anyone wishing to buy a Christmas tree is asked to note that the Entwistle 4-H Clothing Club will be selling and delivering on Saturday, December 16th. Anyone wishing to order before that date could phone 727-3665.

The next meeting is on January 17th in the United Church basement.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to our parents and friends who have done so much to help our club this past year.

Two cave men were huddled close to their fire. One of the pre-historic guys turned to the other and said: "We never had this crazy weather before they started using bows and arrows."

Your Treasury Branch has a better Savings Plan

Now, your Treasury Branch helps you set your money to work in the way that suits you best.

Take your pick of these three straightforward plans:

6% 1-to-6-Year Term Saving Certificates
Here's the big one! On a minimum investment of $10,000 for any term from one to six years, your Treasury Branch now pays 6% per annum. Don't miss this opportunity!

IMPORTANT: Invest now at this excellent rate — Treasury Branch interest rates fluctuate in accordance with trends in the financial field.

1-to-6-Year Term Saving Certificates
Deposit $500 or more for whatever period you wish from one to six years, and your money immediately starts earning 5⅞% per annum.

4½% Regular Savings Accounts
Deposit any amount you wish, either at set intervals or when it's convenient. Interest at the rate of 4½% calculated on your minimum monthly balance is added to your account twice a year. Withdraw as much as you need, when you need it. You can make as many as five withdrawals in any one month free.

All of these plans give you complete flexibility. Treasury Branch Term Saving Certificates can be redeemed before maturity at any time after the first ninety days. If you redeem before maturity, you get whatever interest has been earned, but at a slight reduction. Or, you can leave your Term Saving Certificate intact, earning interest for you at the full rate, while you use it as collateral for an economical Treasury Branch Loan. Call in at your nearest Treasury Branch right away and let the friendly Manager help you pick your best savings plan.

UNION HORSESHOERS ARISE DON'T JUST FADE AWAY

The International Union of Journeymen Horseshoers of U.S. and Canada never kicked up much trouble in labor circles. For that reason, says Plant Administration & Engineering, it probably wouldn't have been missed if the Department of Labor in Ottawa hadn't issued a little obituary note.

The union only had ten members in Canada at the last census in 1965. This year labor department census takers have been unable to find any of them and have concluded that the IUJH is no longer active in Canada.

Beef cattle graze in the foothills of southwestern Alberta. Dr. S.B. Slen of CDA's Research Station at Lethbridge claims that profitable use of summer pastures by feeder cattle calls for quicker turnover. This means feeding them grain while they are on grass.

Beef Feedlot on Grass

LETHBRIDGE--A quicker turnover of cattle has become essential in the feeder business, in the opinion of Dr. S.B. Slen, head of the animal science section at CDA's Research Station here.

He says increased economic pressure has made it generally unprofitable, as a means of utilizing summer pasture, to buy feeders in the spring and sell them off grass in the fall. It is now necessary to finish these cattle for market if a reasonable profit is to be expected.

On the feeding aspect Dr. Slen says daily gains of 3.9

pounds per head were obtained in recent tests at the Lethbridge Research Station. Groups of steers were placed on well-managed irrigated pastures about May 20th. They were implanted with 36 milligrams of diethylstilbestrol and were full-fed grains during the summer season for about 120 days. Wheat, oats, and barley were fed to the steers without any other supplementation.

Barley gave the highest daily rates of gain (3.9 pounds) followed by wheat (3.6 pounds) and oats (3.4 pounds). Some steers were fed about 16 pounds of grain daily--approximately the same as was consumed by the full-fed cattle. At this rate it made no difference whether the steers were hand-fed or self-fed, said Dr. Slen.

About September 20th, all steers were slaughtered off grass and carcass data were collected. Dressing percentages ranged from 57.5 for the barley and wheat-fed groups to 54.0 for the oat-fed group. The number of carcasses grading choice were: ninety per cent of the barley-feds, three-quarters of the wheat-feds and less than half of the

Rebels-Camrose Play to 5-5 Tie

The Drayton Valley Rebels played their best game of the season last Saturday night at the Centennial Civic Centre but had to settle for a 5-5 tie with the Camrose Maroons before 253 fans.

The Rebels got off to a fast start, built up what looked a comfortable lead and seemed to have the Maroons on the run throughout the first two periods. The Maroons struck back with three unanswered goals in the third period to tie the score and send the contest into overtime.

The overtime period produced plenty of excitement and the Rebels came close late in the period but the Camrose team held on to keep one point in the standings.

Scoring for Drayton Valley were Louis Balen, Barry Ness, Alvin Hopfe, Ron Hemmingway and Garry Pankewicz. Frank Novosel assisted in two Rebel goals. The Camrose marksmen were John Froehler with two goals, Ken Gumpinger, Leon Ramstad and Jim Holt got the singles. There were six penalties three to each team. Shots on goal were even with each team getting 32 chances.

Next Sunday at the Centennial Civic Centre we will see the Stettler Imperials and the Rebels going at it. Game time is 2 p.m. The Imperials are presently leading the North Central Alberta Intermediate oat-feds.

Although the total costs per steer were approximately the same in all groups, only the barley-fed steers showed a profit in both years of the study.

It is suggested that grain feeding of steers on grass is an efficient method of utilizing summer forage and of getting feeder cattle to market as quickly as possible during a time when feeding conditions are most favorable.

Couple Feted On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Primrose of Drayton Valley celebrated their Silver Wedding Anniversary on December 2nd, 1967, at a reception and open house given by their children at the Elks Hall.

Reg Hamilton was M.C. for the evening. He proposed a toast to the bride and groom of yester-year, and was responded to by Crystal and Glen. About one hundred and twenty guests sat down to a sumptuous supper. The evening was spent in a good get-together and dancing.

Many beautiful gifts were received.

Out-of-town guests were the mother of the groom, Mrs. Marion Primrose of Scollard, Alberta; Mr. and Mrs. Chris Clausen, parents of Crystal from Rumsey, Alberta.

Many thanks to the ladies in charge of the supper, Mrs. Dunnington, Mrs. Ella Kelly, Mrs. Jean Campbell, and Mrs. Carol Hoyland.

Coming Events

CHRISTMAS PARTY for Elk members and guests on December 22nd starting at 9 p.m.

An old lady kept a parrot which was always swearing. Every Sunday she put a cover over the cage, taking it off on Monday. It was the only way she could prevent the parrot from swearing on the Sabbath.

On Monday she saw the minister approaching, so she quickly put the cover over the cage. As the reverend stepped into the parlour, the parrot remarked: "This has been a damn short week."

The exasperated mother said: "Johnny, finish eating your supper. There are thousands of starving boys and girls in China who would just love to have that food."

"Oh yeah?" Johnny replied. "Name three."

A hundred years ago, a Prisoner in a Turkish fortress in the Holy Land announced a new Revelation of God. His name was Bahá'u'lláh. His "Letters to the Kings" are, without doubt, the most remarkable documents in religious history. Several million people have now responded to His call.

Have You Heard of Bahá'u'lláh?

Local clergy of all faiths have just received an offer of Bahá'u'lláh's Message. We urge you to investigate it either through your clergyman or by writing:

Frost-Free Season Increased Recently

An increase in the frost-free season in Alberta of as much as a month in the 1951-64 period has been noted by Prof. Richmond W. Longley, meteorologist at the Department of Geography, University of Alberta.

This trend to a longer period between the killing frosts of spring and fall is making it possible to grow later-maturing, higher-yielding crops in northern Alberta.

The longest expansion of the frost-free period noted by Prof. Longley has been east of Edmonton to Lloydminster where the frost-free period has increased a month. There has been no significant difference in southern Alberta around Brooks, weather station records show. In the Rocky Mountain region, the frost-free period has increased several weeks. At Fort Vermilion in northern Alberta, the frost-free period increased from 65 to 100 days, records show. However, Prof. Longley says, the big increase here might be due as much to the change in the location of the temperature recording station as to other factors.

The currently longer frost-free season will allow farmers to turn to later-maturing, high-yielding varieties if they have a mind. Jubilee feed barley—one of the latest, yet one of the highest-yielding varieties—might be grown. The newly-developed oat variety, Grizzly, which is late, but one of the highest-yielders, might also be grown. In garden crops, later-season varieties of greater size and superior quality might be planted. A longer frost-free period would also make it possible to grow egg plants and peppers in Alberta gardens.

The increase in the frost-free period in Alberta is likely part of a long-term weather cycle, Prof. Longley says. Work on climatic changes by meteorologists shows that there has been a rising temperature in the Northern Hemisphere in most of the 20th century.

Climatological records for the Northern Hemisphere have shown that the trend to rising temperatures reached its climax about 1960 and there has been a slight downward trend during the 1960's. But no estimate can be made of the future has little significance.

"Forecasting climatic trends is impossible," Prof. Longley says. "Any forecast further than five days ahead is a waste of time."

Prof. Longley's discovery of the trend towards increasing the frost-free period in Alberta came as a part of a project he undertook to make up climatological maps for Alberta. Studying data from the Meteorological Division, Department of Transport, he noticed that the frost-free period over the past 14 years was longer than those published in Meteorological Branch records prior to 1951.

Frost, he says, is caused by a number of factors. These include an outbreak of cold air in the north and clear skies which permit cooling by radiation at night. Cold air tends to drain into low points so the most frost-prone areas are valleys. There is a longer frost-free period around lakes and streams as bodies of water tend to keep air warmer.

Prof. Longley's frost-free maps are included in the recently-published book "Natural History of Alberta". They also will appear in the "Atlas of Alberta"—a centennial project of the University of Alberta and the Alberta government which will go to the press soon. This atlas will include maps of crops, soils, populations and industries of Alberta.

Sale of Ceramics

The Drayton Valley Ceramics Club will hold a sale of their work in Block's Store on Friday the 15th from 5 to 8 p.m. and Saturday the 16th from 2 to 4 p.m.

There will be a selection of different items made locally by the Drayton Valley citizens. Although the club has only been active for two months the work compares favorably with well-known pottery products.

Come see and buy for Christmas.

Tact consists of knowing how far is too far.

Lodgepole Lions Christmas Party

The Lodgepole Lions cordially invite everyone to attend the annual Christmas party on Sunday, December 17th at 6:30 p.m. in the Lodgepole School.

A program has been arranged with members of the Junior Choir, Cubs and Scouts and other school children taking part. It is also hoped that some guest dancers from Drayton Valley will be present and of course, Santa Claus will be there
